BR Series Metal Indicator Light

Solico releases a new BR series metal indicator light with 12 / 16 / 19 / 22 mm mounting holes, a variety of voltages, LED color options, and fixed or flashing lights.

The BR series is designed to offer an aesthetic quality and polished LED light output for a wide range of applications. The threaded bushing indicator includes a hexagon nut and silicone seal to complement its rear epoxy sealed base. The LED is extremely durable due to its solid-state design and ability to withstand a wide temperature range. Solico LED lights reliably indicate the status of different components, reducing the need for maintenance and save energy in your application.
